Audit and Accounts

At Prime we see the year end as an ideal opportunity to review the year gone by and use the accounts as the starting point for providing advice which helps our clients be fully informed about their business finances. We like to use the knowledge of the past to help shape a successful future for our clients.

Every company has an obligation to prepare a set of year end accounts that comply with the Companies Act and to be filed within nine months of their year end.

Depending on meeting certain criteria, they may also require an audit of the financial statements.

It's not just companies that need to prepare year end accounts - partnerships and sole traders must also prepare a set of income and expenditure accounts which will then be incorporated within a partnership tax return or a self assessment tax return respectively.

Year end accounts are necessary for taxation and compliance reasons and we can prepare these for you to meet the requirements.

Audits provide a cornerstone to financial reporting. They furnish valuable and reliable information to shareholders, banks, tax authorities and others who need to make financial decisions.

Prime conducts audits through a specialist team of extremely high calibre staff, who carry out over 80 audits each year. This specialism allows us to ensure that we have technically competent staff available to conduct these audits, making the process as efficient as possible for both parties.

We are Registered Auditors with the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales (ICAEW) and therefore have to continually demonstrate our stringent review and control procedures to ensure the firm adheres to international auditing standards.

In order to perform effective audits, we not only audit our clients' financial records on their premises but also familiarise ourselves with clients' operations, the industries in which they operate and the economic events which have impacted upon their business".

Audit Director

John Osborne
VAO Director

We have implemented new technology within our VAO team to streamline the accounts process. Much of our software operates in the cloud allowing clients to access their records in real time wherever they may be.

The Prime team provides complete basic data entry, preparation of debtor and creditor listings, completion and filing of VAT returns, and production of regular management information reports.

Payroll Processing

Prime's payroll department is a registered BACS Bureau and processes upwards of 500 payrolls. The department operates across all payroll frequencies and handles small and large clients which frees up their time, allowing them to focus on core business activity.

Many clients are struggling to:

- Keep abreast of the ever changing legislation
- Worrying about staff absenteeism at a critical point in payroll processing

Prime payroll services can remove the burden of compliance and allow clients to:

- Insulate themselves from penalty charges for non filing and late filing
- Get complete peace of mind with expert professional service
- Use our unique BACS accredited payment service

Compliance is essential to avoid penalties and having the security of working with payroll experts means it is one less thing to worry about.

As part of our payroll service we can also file Construction Industry Scheme (CIS) submissions for subcontractors on a monthly basis.

"Prime's payroll department assist clients ranging in size and from a variety of different industries".

Under the Pension Reform act, known as Auto Enrolment, regardless of the size of a business there is now a requirement for every employer to offer a workplace pension.

With an increasingly ageing population, the Government recognises there will be a significant shortfall in funds available to look after people at retirement and as such, are stipulating that everyone in employment must pay into a workplace pension scheme.

This additional responsibility for employers means they have to undertake a number of processes, to ensure that they are complying with the legal requirements and, supporting their staff effectively, or else they face hefty fines.

Once an appropriate Pension Scheme for your employees has been selected, we can assist with the ongoing administration as follows:

- Enrol all eligible staff onto the compliant pension scheme.
- Continual assessment of the workforce each time we run a payroll, ensuring full compliance.
- Provision of communication items for the workforce (Report / letters).
- Provide pension reform data for your provider (a spreadsheet / CSV file).
- Provide continual assessments for new starters following agreed process.
- Provide support with re-enrolment after 3 years.
- Provide records for your employees that will comply with the data that you need to retain for The Pensions Regulator.

Forensic Accounting

Bringing a unique combination of accounting, auditing and investigative skills, a forensic accountant can assist parties to resolve their disputes.

Forensic accountants are trained to look beyond the numbers and deal with the business and commercial reality of the situation.

Our specialist team are able to assist in a variety of ways to help parties resolve disputes.

We can act in an advisory capacity providing an independent view of the merits of the financial aspects of the dispute, thus allowing parties to achieve a satisfactory outcome.

We can also act as experts and provide our independent opinion for use in formal legal proceedings and tribunals.

We are regularly appointed as party expert, for claimant or defendant and as a single joint expert. Our team have extensive experience of giving evidence in court.

My job, as expert accountant, is to simplify the complex, cut through the jargon and provide a robust opinion based on the facts. This gives the parties a clear understanding of the potential of their case and assists in the settlement negotiations."

Charity and not-for-profit

Prime acts for many charity and not-for-profit organisations providing advice on the financial, governance, management structures and tax needs of a charity.

Prime also provides a range of services including; charity formation, preparing accounts, and installation of software and systems to facilitate the production of management information.

The charity and not-for-profit offering is headed up by Prime director, Jeremy Kitson. The team are vastly experienced in this area having specialised in the charity and not-for-profit sector for over 35 years. The team act for over 50 clients across the UK preparing SORP compliant accounts whether the charity is a company, CIO, trust or an association.

The rules and regulations associated in running a charity are complex and the roles and responsibilities of trustees are not lightly taken on.

These requirements make an expert adviser essential to assist the trustees in best practice and compliance. Trustees need clear and relevant management information to assist them in their decision making.

Jeremy and his team provide such information by understanding the objectives of the charity and applying their judgement to report a meaningful SOFA.

"Prime are genuinely interested in the Charity sector and the information and guidance provided so far has been impressive and very helpful. All the staff which we have had contact with are helpful, friendly and easy to work with and we look forward to building on this relationship in future years"
